Friends Of Sylvan Gardens
Seek Volunteers

CHATHAM – The Friends of Sylvan Gardens will be holding a daffodil bulb planting session on Saturday, Nov. 6 at 10 a.m. Volunteers are needed to plant 10 new varieties of daffodils (provided by the Friends) to add to the collection started by Rolf E. Sylvan in the 1950s. Those interested in helping are asked to register by email or phone with Cathy Weston at 508-945-3239 or ctheweston85@gmail.com. Volunteers should dress for gardening and bring a trowel and gloves. Parking is available in the former New England Pizza/Chatham Natural Market lot. Participants will meet at the entrance to the ADA trail off Old Main Street at 10 a.m. Rainy day will be Sunday, Nov. 7.

Sylvan Gardens is a town-owned conservation area purchased in 2004 with land bank funds. The Friends of Sylvan Gardens is a non-profit organization geared to assist the town with the improvement and management of the property for passive recreation, public enjoyment and preservation of its natural resources.
